Netcare Limited
Website terms and conditions

- 1 This is the website of Netcare Limited ("Netcare"). The use of this website is subject to the terms and conditions set out below. These terms and conditions are binding and enforceable against all persons that access this website or any part thereof.
- 2 The content and design of the website pages are subject to copyright owned by Netcare. Ownership of all intellectual property rights to this website vests in Netcare unless otherwise stated.
- 3 Netcare licences any person who enters or uses this website ("the User") to view, download and print the content of this website, provided that such content is used for personal, educational and/or non-commercial purposes only. All licences and/or permissions granted are provided on a non-exclusive and non-transferable basis and may be terminated or cancelled by Netcare at any time without giving reasons thereof.
- 4 Any material or information downloaded or otherwise obtained through the use of this website is done at the User's sole discretion and risk and the User is solely responsible for any damage to its computer system or loss of data that may result.
- 5 No warranties, representations, undertakings, whether express or implied, is given in respect of the content of this website or the services provided on it or in respect of any other website.
- 6 Users may not use the content of this website for any commercial and non-private purposes without prior written consent from Netcare.

- 7 Users may only access and use this website for legal purposes.
- 8 This website features content related to medicine and medical developments, practices or procedures. Such content is intended to provide general guidance only and should not be regarded as a substitute for taking medical advice in relation to particular circumstances.
- 9 Any personal information submitted by a User on this website will be treated as confidential and will be collected, stored and used and processed for the stated purposes only. For the purposes of these terms and conditions, "personal information" shall have the meaning assigned to it in section 1 of the Promotion of Access to Information Act 2 of 2000.
- 10 Netcare will take all reasonable steps to secure the content of this Website and the information provided by and collected from Users from unauthorised access and/or disclosure. Netcare, however, does not make any warranties or representations that content is 100% safe.
- 11 Netcare reserves the right, in its sole and absolute discretion, to (at any time without prior notice to the User) –
 - 11.1 amend these terms and conditions;
 - 11.2 change the content available on this website;
 - 11.3 discontinue any aspect of this website; and/or
 - 11.4 change the software and hardware required to access and use this website.
- 12 This website is made available for public viewing on the basis that Netcare is excluded to the extent lawfully permitted from all liability whatsoever for any loss or damage howsoever arising out of the use of this website or reliance upon the content of this website.
- 13 The User's use of this website and any dispute arising out of this website is subject to the laws of South Africa. Any dispute arising out of the use or publication of this website is subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of South Africa.
